All indicators have a +/- 1-day window in which their energy should be seen.

The week had a slightly Bullish number of cycles. Cycles L3 and L4 peaked mid-week. We also have a New Moon mid-week. Both of these were Bullish. The most Bearish days were Monday and Tuesday as you can see in the Bullish/Bearish row.

The Matrix Summary was adjusted by one day which forecast the up and down days of the week very well.

Overextended Indicator

The Overextended Indicator has given 7 signals since June. Six of those signals have accurately called an end to the existing trends.

Options

Only two option trades were opened this week. Both hit the 100% profit target. The FSLR option hit a high of 770%.
