Weekly Matrix Commentary

We started the week with a Bullish bias. The Matrix showed no significant Bearish influence until Friday when the Moon moved into Scorpio. Also on Friday we had a high volatility number.

The Matrix Summary correctly forecast whether the daily close would be higher or lower for the last 3 days of the week. Tuesday was wrong, but Monday was a holiday and with the Trump inauguration a higher close on Tuesday was pretty much a given.

All indicators have a +/- 1-day window in which their energy should be seen.

I though it might be more helpful if I display the daily activity in a candlestick chart format instead of a bar chart.

The Summary is created by applying weighted values to the indicators in the Weekly Matrix.
