Weekly Matrix Commentary

We start the week with a Bearish outlook. NOAA forecast a great deal of space weather disturbance for the week with Monday and Tuesday being the worst. There was also the Trump tariffs that led to a melt down in the futures market Sunday night. Trump back-peddled the tariffs causing a considerable wave of Bullish optimism that we saw play out over the week. Monday did close lower than the Friday close but much higher than the open.

The Matrix Summary for Tuesday was the same as for Monday which made it difficult to forecast, but it did have a score of +6. Along with the postponed tariffs, we should have expected a higher close.

Wednesday's forecast was down but the market closed up. So we got that one wrong. Thursday was forecast to close higher and Friday to close lower. Both of those were correct, but I decided the rally would continue through Friday. My fault, I shouldn't have second guess the Matrix. That mistake led to a loss for our Binary option.

All indicators have a +/- 1-day window in which their energy should be seen.

I thought it might be more helpful if I display the daily activity in a candlestick chart format instead of a bar chart.

The Summary is created by applying weighted values to the indicators in the Weekly Matrix.
