Weekly Matrix Commentary

The week started off with a significant space weather disturbance forecast by NOAA on Monday and Tuesday. It is expected stock indexes will not do well during these disturbances. The indexes literally dumped on both days. Here is a study done by the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta titled Playing the Field: Geomagnetic Storms and the Stock Market

We would assume once the disturbance passed there would be some type of a, at the least, small recovery. Wednesday did close higher. It was this day that the Matrix Summary was moved back one day which now told us to look for a move lower on Thursday and higher on Friday. Thursday also had the Sun squared the Moon. Here we expect a lower close within a window of +/- 1-day. Thursday did close lower and Friday closed higher as expected.

Significant space weather disturbance

All indicators have a +/- 1-day window in which their energy should be seen.

I thought it might be more helpful if I display the daily activity in a candlestick chart format instead of a bar chart.

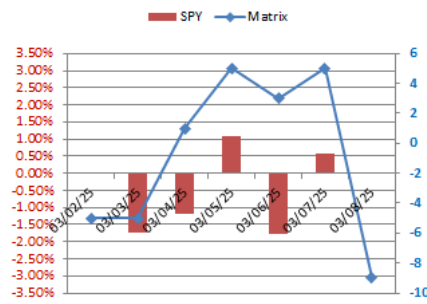

Forecast has been move ahead 1 day for a better fit.

Matrix Summary vs SPY Using a candlestick chart.

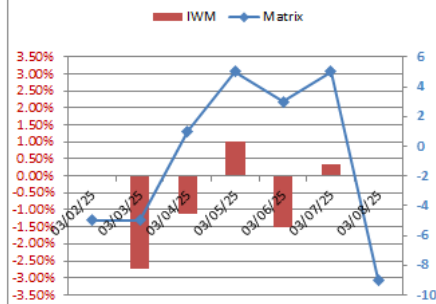

The Summary is created by applying weighted values to the indicators in the Weekly Matrix.

Algo Forecasts

The Blue line is the Algo Forecast.

GLD turned down as forecasts. IWM and QQQ both took a dive within a couple of days of the Algo top.

USO continued to move lower and the TLT rose. AAPL turned down after hitting the forecast high.
