Weekly Commentary

The Matrix was Bullish for the week, but the NOAA forecast was quite Bearish most of the week with Tuesday and Wednesday being the worst. Add to this conflict, Mercury was retrograde which only confused the picture even more.

Tuesday was the most likely day to close lower, but it closed up.

Here comes the problem. Thursday was very Bullish, and to make it even more Bullish we were moving into the conjunction on Saturday but it still closed lower. That was unusual. If you look at the Matrix Summary, you'll see it was right only once this week. Trying to forecast Tuesday through Friday—I never try to forecast Monday—the Matix is right 2 or 3 times. This week it got only one day right which was Friday.

I tried to be a cautious with the Binary options, but lost on both Wednesday and Thursday. That unnerved me enough to pass on shorting Friday.

The MVD Indicator was as Bearish as it can get for the entire week.

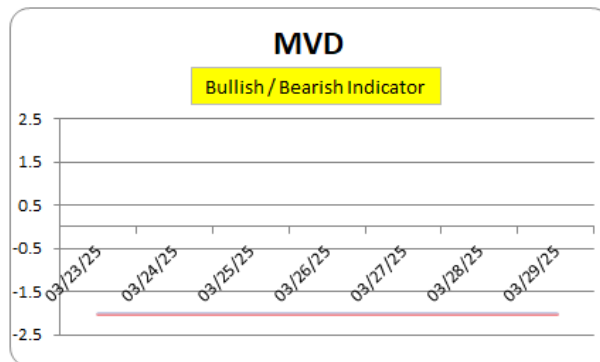

As I have said in the past, indicators just don't work quite as well during a Mercury retrograde. The retrograde will continue to April 6th, so we need to be careful this coming week.

As for the Algo forecast, they all did quite well. Charts are at the end of the review.

Matrix Summary

I thought it might be more helpful if I display the daily activity in a candlestick chart format instead of a bar chart.

The Summary is created by applying weighted values to the indicators in the Weekly Matrix.

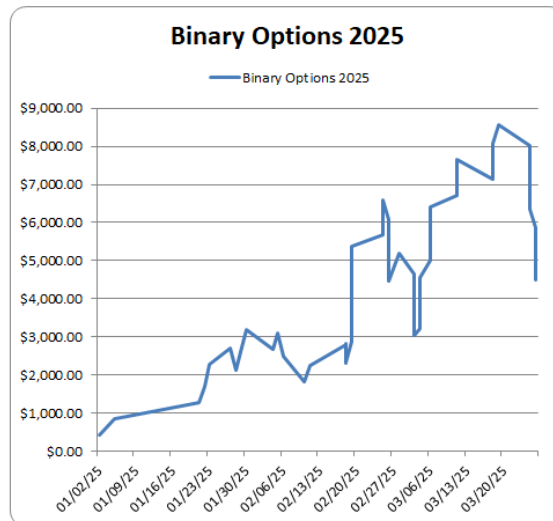

Binary Options Trades

The results show results for 10 contracts per Index. You can trade only 1 contract if you wish.

Binary option profits for 2025 trading 10 contracts. If you wish you can trade as little as 1 contract that would cost you $45-$55.
