Weekly Commentary

All matrix indicators are expected to manifest within a +/- 1-day window.

With the disruption caused by Trump's tariffs on the markets, I was surprised that so many indicators worked out well. Tuesday saw high volatility. Although the VIX reached only a 2, we observed significant movement within its +/- 1-day window: the DJIA rose 7.87% on Wednesday.

Space weather disturbance forecasts were high on Monday and Tuesday, and both days closed lower. Intraday moves were wild.

The MVD indicator dropped to -3 for the entire week. While this was a bearish move, it hit its bottom, so the week closing with a gain was not surprising. The markets dipped significantly from the previous week, but this week, the indicator has risen to 0.

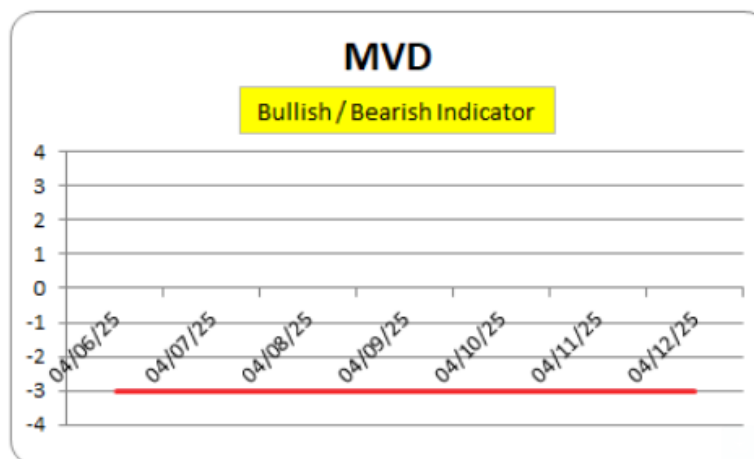

The Matrix Summary was off by one day. I considered readjusting it on Wednesday, but with Trump changing tariffs almost daily, I decided to leave it alone.

The Algo forecasts surprised me. Despite the wild swings, divergences from the forecasts were short-lived, and they have all returned to following the initial projections.

Matrix Summary

I thought it might be more helpful if I display the daily activity in a candlestick chart format instead of a bar chart.

The Summary is created by applying weighted values to the indicators in the Weekly Matrix.

Binary Options

We took no trades this week in an attempt to keep the powder dry while Trump's tariffs sent the markets careening.
